Page Organization

- We explored multiple page organizations with two main variations:
 - With sub-pages
 - Without sub-pages
- Main issue on current site is complex and confusing navigation
- Simplified navigation would be achieved through a page organization with no sub-pages and instead consolidating information onto one page

Questions

- Is there one design that you prefer more than the others?
- Do you have any other feedback on the designs?
- Is the simplified page organization with no sub-pages the right approach or would you prefer to have a page organization with sub-pages?
